

The Rotherham-ghosts team never conduct an investigation with a use of a spiritual medium either qualified or in practice and all of the evidence is based on accounts that take place during the investigation.

However we do use some equipment to help identify paranormal activity, but we will never solely conclude the findings based on the equipments results.

Rotherham-ghosts do believe that many experiences that are witnessed by individuals can be explained rationally, however, there are on occasions where we do deem some evidence as paranormal.

If you want an honest opinion based on facts and experiences witnessed during investigations by a fully experienced team then please do not hesitate to contact us.

The Rotherham-ghosts team try to investigate all of the locations that are reported through to us, in fact one of our sayings is...

'We don't just report it, we investigate it'.

By taking this approach we can look for rational explanations in what's been reported through to us and in some cases where alleged hauntings are taking place in people homes, we can reassure them.

To date we have investigated over 100 locations, and will continue to do so until we can conclude if there really is life after death.

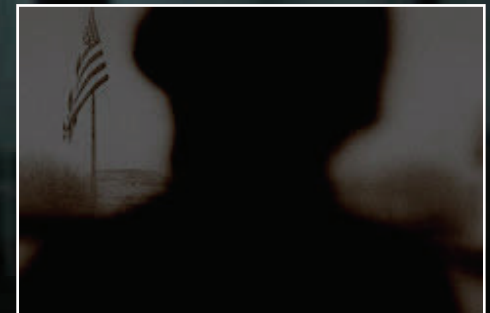

Should you wish to have an investigation done by a professional group of investigators, then please visit our website and click the contact us link.
